COMPANY PROFILE

"HARBOR HAVEN: EXPLORING V&A WATERFRONT"

The V&A Waterfront in Cape Town, South Africa, is a vibrant cultural and entertainment hub nestled around a historic working harbor. It offers a unique blend of shopping, dining, leisure activities, and stunning views of Table Mountain and the Atlantic Ocean. This bustling waterfront precinct features an array of attractions, including the Two Oceans Aquarium, where visitors can explore marine life from both the Atlantic and Indian Oceans, as well as the Zeitz Museum of Contemporary Art Africa (MOCAA), housed in a repurposed grain silo and showcasing cutting-edge African art. With its lively atmosphere, waterfront promenades, and a diverse range of shops and restaurants, the V&A Waterfront is a must-visit destination for tourists and locals alike, offering a glimpse into Cape Town's rich maritime history and modern cultural scene.

DID YOU KNOW?

- The V&A Waterfront is named after Queen Victoria and her son, Prince Alfred, and is built on the site of the historic Victoria Basin, which dates back to the mid-19th century.
- It is not just a shopping and dining destination but also a cultural hub, featuring the Zeitz Museum of Contemporary Art Africa (MOCAA), housed in a renovated grain silo, which showcases modern African art.
- While the V&A Waterfront is a major tourist attraction, it still functions as a working harbor with ships docking and departing regularly, adding to its authentic maritime atmosphere.
