"MAURITIUS'S MAJESTIC MOUNTAIN OF LEGEND AND BEAUTY"

Le Morne Brabant is a breathtaking, iconic mountain that rises dramatically from the southern tip of Mauritius, its jagged peak and sheer cliffs standing as a powerful symbol of natural grandeur and historical significance. This UNESCO World Heritage Site is renowned not only for its stunning panoramic views of the surrounding turquoise lagoons and lush landscapes but also for its poignant role in the island's history as a refuge for runaway slaves. The mountain's striking silhouette against the sky, combined with its rich cultural legacy and the lush vegetation that carpets its slopes, makes Le Morne Brabant a must-visit destination for those seeking both natural beauty and a deep connection to Mauritius's past.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Le Morne Brabant was a hideout for escaped slaves (maroons) in the 18th and 19th centuries, and its rugged terrain provided them with a natural refuge from capture. The site is a symbol of freedom and resistance.
- The mountain, along with its cultural landscape, was designated a UNESCO World Heritage site in 2008 due to its significance in the history of slavery and its stunning natural beauty.
- The mountain features a distinctive flat-topped peak, which is a rare geological formation created by volcanic activity millions of years ago, making it a striking landmark on the island.
